

Red Truce Team Gets Warning

NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK — A proposal to convert Haymarket Square into a Dixon parking lot is apparently log-jammed in the city planning commission.

It was tossed into its lap early this year by the Dixon chamber of commerce and since then we haven't heard a word from it—that is until today.

We contacted Atty. Edwin Merrick, chairman of the planning commission and he admitted that the situation is rather dormant. Taking it from there we assume that the planning commission is somewhat reluctant to act on it. At least, Atty. Merrick indicated as much when he told us that Haymarket Square is under the jurisdiction of the Dixon Park district and the planning commission hasn't gotten around to ask the park board if they would part with the land to place it in use as a parking area. Thus the proposition is lodged firmly in a big, fat pigeonhole.

Ever since the proposal was advanced, we've heard rumblings that some local elements would attempt to block the plan inasmuch as the area was deemed to be the city's "market" square by the city's founder, John Dixon. These sources indicate that they would invoke some provisions of the deed which forbid the use of the land for anything but a marketing place.

That would cast a legal cloud over the entire proposition and would effectively stymie efforts to create more parking area unless the courts could interpret "marketing" as being synonymous with "marketing"—which, indeed, seems to have some logic.

A few points stand out at this juncture. First, the city's business community is desperately in need of more parking room. That need is so urgent that it is surprising that the chamber of commerce would advance a plan and then sit back on its heels while others wrestle with the problem.

Second, the planning commission has a clear duty to investigate the matter thoroughly, to determine the legality of it, to "clear" it for action by the city council or to drop the whole thing as not being practical.

We think that it's a pertinent point to make here that the average shopper will not give much of a hoot if no one acts. He'll continue his efforts to trade with local businessmen as long as he is not placed under undue strain. If lack of parking discommodates him he will latch on to other shopping centers where greater efforts are made to accommodate him.

Study Tax Plan for Truckers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois motor vehicle laws commission is going to give further study to a plan to tax out of state truckers on business done in this state.

After a meeting Monday, Senator George Drach of Springfield said the legislative group was not satisfied with details of his proposal and decided to consider it again next week.

Drach said he will ask the attorney general's opinion on whether the plan is constitutional.

The proposed legislation calls for a three per cent tax on gross receipts of trucks' business in Illinois. The truckers, however, would be allowed to deduct from the tax any amounts paid in Illinois gasoline taxes and license fees.

At present, interstate truck operators do not pay any tax in Illinois.

Questions were raised before the commission as to whether Drach's plan would run afoul of reciprocal agreements whereby a truck licensed in one state is permitted to travel free in other states.

Communist Forces Drive On Capital of Little Laos

Native Troops Rally to Halt New Threat by Reds; French Send Aid

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—The Communist-led Vietminh captured the mountain post of Pakseng, 42 miles northeast of Luangprabang, as invasion columns continued today to press upon Laos' loyal capital from the north and east.

A French army spokesman announced the fall of Pakseng. The invading troops Monday night were reported within 25 miles of Luangprabang on the east, and one unofficial report said advance Vietminh units were within 12 miles on the north.

Position Indefinite
The exact position of the Vietminh was difficult to determine. The invaders were filtering single file through dense jungle toward the ring of mountains surrounding the town, which lies in a palm-lined valley along the Medong River.

The French continued to rush men and supplies into Luangprabang tonight by airlift while bombers and fighters hit the enemy wherever troop concentrations were spotted.

French and Laotian soldiers dug trenches and constructed barbed wire entanglements around the little town of 6,000, hereditary, home of aged, ailing King Sisavang Vong.

A French major reported that advance units of the invaders are within 12 miles of the town on the north, while at the east larger forces had advanced to within 25 miles.

Government Follows
The Vietminh radio broadcast a "resistance government" is following the Red Army into Laos.

The Red command was reported also building up its forces circling the Plaine des Jarres, 70 miles southeast of Luangprabang, where French and Laotian forces have thrown up strong defenses in the hope of bringing the Vietminh to a showdown battle on ground of their own choosing.

But the Vietminh, bypassing the plain, has aimed three powerful columns from the northwest, northeast and east directly at Luangprabang. Its capture would represent an enormous political victory. The Red columns already have

The thought of growing thin and still being able to eat has captured the imagination of many Telegraph subscribers.

Dixon Public Housing Units To Be Opened About May 3

50 Families Okayed for 76 Vacancies

First 12 Will Be Admitted Early in May, Says Manager

The Lee county housing project on Fourth avenue will admit the first 12 applicants for apartments on or about May 3, Donald C. Bryant, housing authority manager, announced today.

Of the 76 units in the project, the remaining 64 apartments will be available in the next two months, Bryant said.

Following the initial opening, 28 more apartments probably will be ready during May, he added.

Fifty Lee county residents have already been approved for apartments, leaving 26 units not yet taken.

Bryant said that persons desiring to make an application for a unit should do so in the near future.

All Not Eligible

He emphasized the fact that not everyone is eligible to enter the housing units in that it is established to handle certain categories of wage earners who find adequate housing in the county beyond the reach of their incomes.

Eligible persons are divided into three brackets. There are apartments for two persons, blood relatives, who together do not earn more than $2,800; apartments for families of three to four persons, who do not earn more than $2,850 in base wages, and also apartments for families of five or more who do not earn more than $3,000.

Bryant explained that in families of three or more persons, where there is a man and wife and children, the total earning potential of the family is increased at the amount of $100 a child.

Rents are based on approximately one-fifth of the total yearly wage of the family. If a family earns $100 a month, the rent for an apartment would be about $20.

A meeting of the Lee county housing authority is scheduled to be held tonight at 806 Fourth av., for the purpose of electing new officers and, to discuss the possibilities of holding an open house at the project, Bryant said.

Expect Quiet Session of City Council

The city council will meet tonight at what is expected to be a quiet session. Councilmen contacted today indicated that nothing of importance is on the agenda.

Pending action by the council is the proposed new parking lot to be located at the corner of Hennepin avenue and Second street, the former location of the St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Councilmen will not be able to advertise for bids to complete the work in leveling the lot and installing parking meters until engineers have completed their surveys.

Robert Anderson, engineer for the C. K. Willett, consulting engineers, company, said today that a report on the estimated work on the lot will probably be ready in about a week.

Ground surveys have already been made. However, layout work on the project is yet to be finished, Anderson said.

The lot is expected to alleviate parking conditions in the downtown area.

Work is still under way towards compiling a budget for 1953. The council has a period of three months during the first quarter of the fiscal year to submit budget estimates and arrive at a budget figure.

During that time, the city representatives are given an opportunity to take into account the majority of expenses that may be incurred during the ensuing year.

Ex-Red Tells of Blueprint Thefts

Secret Military Engine Plans Lifted From Cleveland Plant

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thad Mason, a self-identified former Communist spy, testified today that he stole secret U. S. plans for a military diesel engine during World War II.

The witness who is from Wallington, N. J., said the thefts were from a General Motors plant in Cleveland, Ohio, and not from a Detroit plant of General Motors as reported previously by the senate internal security subcommittee before which he testified.

One by One
Mason said he stole the plans one by one from files of the inspection division, and smuggled them to fellow spies who worked as a cook and "second assistant dishwasher" in the plant's cafeteria. The plans then were photographed in a secret hideout in the basement of the cafeteria, he said.

He learned later, he said, that the blueprints were for only part of the engine, although he had believed he was stealing the plans for the entire unit.

A lean, bespectacled man, Mason gave his testimony at a televised public hearing, speaking in a nervous, rather high pitched voice which on occasion faltered.

Mason said he also stole from a du Pont chemical plant in Cleveland the formula for a preparation for the prevention and cure of diseases among livestock. He said he did it under orders from the Communist underground in 1943, and that "the comrade in charge said it would be of great use to our comrades in Russia."

Led Strike
Mason related that he had an "unhappy experience" as the leader of a prep school strike in Cleveland. As a result, he said, the school authorities refused to recommend him for a job when he finally was graduated from Ohio university.

Embittered, he said, he looked upon himself as "the man behind the eight ball" and joined the Communist party in 1936.

He said he advanced swiftly in Communist circles to the role of spy, first in the du Pont plant and then at General Motors.

Senate Will Meet Round The Clock

Taft Orders 24-Hour Sessions to Break Up Oil-Lands Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate opponents of state ownership of off-shore submerged lands faced a night-and-day grind, beginning today.

They came back fighting after a 56 to 33 thumping in the first Senate test vote on the issue. Majority Leader Taft of Ohio counter-attacked with arrangements for Senate sessions around the clock.

After 19 days—and quite a few nights—of Senate debate, the opponents still refused to agree to a date for a final vote.

Cots Ordered

Arrangements were made to keep a quorum of 49 senators present at all times. Cots were ordered for senatorial catnaps in the cloakrooms.

The test of strength came on a Taft motion late Monday to "lay on the table," and thereby kill a federal control substitute by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) to which had been added the "oil for education" amendment of Sen. Hill (D-Ala.).

Thirty-eight Republicans and 18 Democrats voted to kill the Anderson-Hill proposal. Against them were 25 Democrats, 7 Republicans and 1 independent.

The combined Anderson-Hill substitute would have retained off-shore lands under federal control, provided for a system of federal oil leases and dedicated federal revenues to national defense and a system of federal aid to state school systems.

Makes Appeal

Anderson made an 11th-hour appeal to the Senate not to "override the Supreme Court." Then, showing the strain of the long debate in which he had been a leader, he was forced to leave the Senate chamber for rest and medical attention.

Taft, in his first speech of the debate, said the Supreme Court was wrong in declaring that the federal government had paramount right in the lands beyond low-water mark on the coast.

Congress, he suggested, has the right to reverse the court to correct an "injustice," especially after the "Supreme Court has reversed the Supreme Court."

Immediately after the first vote, Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) proposed the first of what he said would be "amendment after amendment" to try to "limit and reduce the possible damage" of the state ownership bill.

Taft said he understood Douglas had 15.

Must Act in Good Faith Or End Talks

UN Negotiators 'Fed Up' With Useless Arguments

PANMUNJOM (AP)—U. N. negotiators today threatened to break off the renewed Korean armistice talks unless the Communists come up soon with a concrete proposal for exchanging prisoners — last big obstacle to a truce.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison said the U. N. Command "does not intend to become involved in protracted and useless arguments." And he warned the Reds that they "should be well aware that they mean what we say."

See Hope

Official sources in Washington, however, were said to see a glimmer of hope that the Reds may be moving toward a truce despite today's U. N. threat.

The session at Panmunjom was the third since the negotiations were revived Sunday in an effort to decide what to do with prisoners who refuse to go home.

The Allies asked the Reds to name a neutral state which would assume custody of prisoners unwilling to return to Communist rule, but received no definite answer. The Communists have indicated they might name Red-run Poland or Czechoslovakia, neither of which would be acceptable to the U. N. Command. The Communists rejected Switzerland.

Three Points

The delegations, which will meet again Wednesday were deadlocked on three main points:

1. The neutral state to handle balking prisoners.
2. The length of time after an armistice necessary for disposal of prisoners.
3. Whether prisoners will be shipped to the neutral state or be held in Korea while their fate is decided.

Most of the persons hospitalized appeared not to have been seriously hurt, police reported, although hospital reports on their condition were not available.

Eleven injured passengers were taken to City Hospital and three to Homer G. Phillips Hospital.

Consider Borer

Very early plantings not only invite damage to a particular field, but tend to increase borer populations in a whole community. They favor increased survival and provide the moths to infest later fields and increase second-generation attacks.

Delay Is Risky

But delaying planting too long—June 1 or later—increases the chances of getting wet or soft corn at harvest.

Entomologist G. C. Decker also points out that corn planted after mid-May is less subject to corn borer attack. He warns against too early planting—during the last of April or first week of May.

New Fertilizer Shows Promise In Experiments

URBANA — Fused tri-calcium phosphate, a newcomer on the fertilizer market, has been showing promising results at agricultural experiment stations.

Although the material has been manufactured experimentally for several years by the Tennessee Valley authority, it has just recently become available to farmers, according to C. M. Linsley, soils specialist at the Illinois college of agriculture.

Only a few thousand tons will be available this year, but this amount will allow a fairly large number of interested farmers to try out the material on a small scale.

Fused tri-calcium phosphate is also known as fused rock phosphate. It is produced by heating rock phosphate to a high temperature in the presence of silica and water vapor.

A. L. Lang and L. B. Miller of the University of Illinois soil experiment field division carried on a number of experiments with this material when it was first developed several years ago. The results showed that fused tri-calcium phosphate was as effective on legumes and grain crops as equal amounts of superphosphate.

It seemed to be about as effective as superphosphate even for wheat, which requires phosphorus in a more available form than most other crops.

Soil Work 'Overdone' By Some

Too many farmers are "overdoing" their efforts to get more out of their soils, says a Minnesota soils expert. It's time those farmers reviewed some fundamentals of soil management—or pay the price for soil handled too fast and too much.

C. O. Roost, head of the soils department at the University of Minnesota, is quoted in Capper's Farmer as saying:

"The average farmer tills land at a fast pace. Often ground is worked when it is too wet or too dry. Crop yields suffer because soil is too compacted."

Here are basic common-sense rules of working soil listed by the national farm magazine:

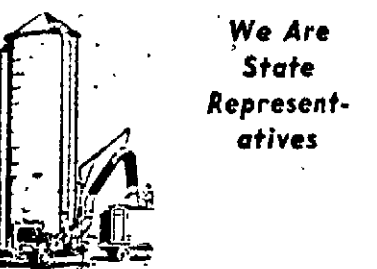

1. Build up soil organic matter.
2. Use plenty of nitrogen fertilizers. Have your soil tested. Many soil men think we have just scratched the surface on use of nitrogen.
3. Stay off fields when soil is too wet. Michigan researchers found that a two-plow, rubber-tired tractor compacts wet ground to a depth of 17 inches. You may need to till or terrace.
4. Limit tillage operations. Work corn land just enough to separate crumbs and fluff up plow layer.

News of the Rock River Grange

By BOB FOURTILLONT

It was with deepest sympathy for the Clarence Kleckner family of Rockford that we heard of the death of their daughter, Mary Alice.

About two years ago, the Kleckners had the misfortune of having all three of their children stricken with polio within a two-week period. The other two children have recovered nicely but Mary Alice had been confined to an iron lung continuously since her affliction. A short time ago she had an operation for kidney stones.

Kleckner is a former secretary of the Illinois State Grange and at the present is head of the Illinois State Grange Insurance company office at Rockford. The Rock River Grange voted a $5 donation to the polio fund in memory of Mary Alice.

AT A RECENT business meeting the first and second degrees of patrons of husbandry were conferred upon Mr. and Mrs. Russell Grobe by the Rock River Grange. We wish to welcome them into the order and hope they will find the work interesting.

Visitors at the last meeting included Mrs. Orville Sells, Oregon, who is Flora in the Illinois State Grange, Sells, who is Ogle county deputy and also master of the Blackhawk Grange at Oregon, and the assistant stewards of the Blackhawk Grange, Mr. and Mrs. Bartell.

The Grange voted to donate $25 to the current cancer drive. Refreshments for the evening were served by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dieterle and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Wiens.

TONIGHT THE Lee-LaSalle Pomona Grange will meet at the Loveland Community house, Dixon. A change in the by-laws is to be voted upon and discussion of joining the Grange Recreational association of Northern Illinois will be held. Following the business meeting a public dance will be held in the dining room.

AN ATMOSPHERE of fun and sociability is creeping into the plans for the usual business and fraternal atmosphere that surrounded the annual meeting of the National Grange. Ex-Governor Harold J. Arthur, master of the Vermont State Grange, announced recently that as host state, Vermont plans to fetter delegates and guests at this year's annual convocation with maple sugar on snow, a lobster supper in the New England tradition, a folk festival and tours of the beautiful Lake Champlain area as well as other scenic northeastern cities.

MEMBERS WHO have not taken the seventh degree, which is the most sacred and meaningful of all Grange degrees, are urged to contact their state master soon for tickets for this degree, which will be given this year on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 12, 13 and 14.

Don't Feed Dirt To Your Tractor

Urbana—Dirt is your tractor's worst enemy.

Tests have shown that running a tractor for only 10 hours in dusty conditions without an air cleaner may cause complete engine failure, reports Wendell Bowers, University of Illinois agricultural engineer.

The dirt-filtering action of the oil-bath air cleaner makes the cleaner one of the tractor's most important parts, Bowers says.

If you neglect the air cleaner, dirt entering the engine may cause sticky or warped valves, grooved intake valves, rapid cylinder wear, loss of power, carbon deposits and excessive fuel consumption.

Bowers suggests using the correct weight of oil in the air cleaner. The cleaner should be changed every day under normal operating conditions, and twice a day when the tractor is operated in extremely dusty conditions.

Keep the pre-cleaner, stack and screen clean by washing them with fuel oil or kerosene when they get dirty. Be sure to keep the correct oil level in the cleaner at all times.

For more information see your county farm adviser or write directly to the College of Agriculture, Urbana, for a copy of Ag. Eng. 688, "Don't Feed Dirt to Your Tractor."

On The Rural Scene

With JIM SOMERS
Lee County Farm Adviser

Thursday and Friday nights our craft shop saw its first real crafts activity. Four-H leaders and members got their feet wet in three activities, reedwork, where they made baskets; embossing of copper foil, and making wooden game boards.

Interest was high. The results were very worth while. The first night, Hugh Wetzel and Dick Lawson, state extension workers in 4-H and recreation, helped us get started.

THE CULTIVATION of interest in these and other hobbies can show our young folks that they can have a lot of fun right in their own homes making useful articles, gifts, and knick knacks at very little cost.

Since the home should be the center of family activity we hope that this project will have an influence upon making the home a more interesting place in which to spend leisure time.

WE ALL KNOW people who have poor health, or reach retirement age, who have a lot more free time than formerly. One or more good crafts hobbies would help utilize this time in a very enjoyable way.

Some of the busiest people I know are the ones who take a few minutes or an hour now and then to relax and pursue a hobby. No matter how busy we are, making a living or doing community and social work, satisfying relaxation is necessary to keep us on an even keel.

CLOVER LEAF weevil has been damaging some legume fields. Cool, dry springs are when this insect is most abundant. These little green worms with a stripe down their back can be found under the trash around the base of the plant in the day time. They feed at night.

Perhaps after the recent rain they will become infected with a fungus disease to which they are subject. If so, some of them can be found in the day on the leaves and curled around the stems. If they do not succumb to the fungus it may pay to spray.

Most springs spraying does not pay. Watch legumes closely for damage by this insect which eats holes in the leaves.

I WAS UNABLE to find any spittlebugs yet Saturday. They should be appearing any day now, if they have not already. They will cause hay losses up to 25 per cent or more.

The bugs stunt the plants by sucking out their sap. They first appear as tiny red bugs in the folded legume leaves and behind leaf sheaths.

For additional information and control, ask for Circular 659.

Market Supply of Beef Expected to Remain High

By L. H. SIMERL
Farm Economist

URBANA — Market supplies of beef cattle will continue large for the next few months. This prospect is evident from the quarterly report of cattle on feed issued recently by the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The report showed that on April 1 farmers in 11 corn-belt states were feeding about three million cattle — 19 percent more than were reported the year before.

Increase Less Apparent

In most areas outside the corn belt the increase is not so pronounced. USDA statisticians figure total cattle on feed to be 12-14 percent over a year ago. The increase shown last January was 16 percent. The report also shows these other important facts:

1. Most of the increase in cattle on feed consists of calves and other light-weight stock. On April 1 farmers in the "big three" states — Iowa, Illinois and Nebraska — were feeding about 563,000 head weighing under 600 pounds. This number is 63 percent more than was listed a year ago, and it is 25 percent of all cattle on feed in these three states.

2. In the big three states all of the increase was represented by cattle that had been fed for more than three months. Farmers listed 1,517,000 head on feed 3 to 6 months compared with 1,188,000 a year before (a 30 percent increase). They reported 132,000 head on feed for more than 6 months compared with 78,000 last year (about a 69 percent increase).

Early Marketing

3. Farmers apparently plan to market a larger share of their cattle before July 1 than they did last year. Corn-belt farmers who reported said they expected to ship 46 percent before July compared with only 42 percent a year ago.

With the larger number of cattle in feedlots this year, marketings from these 11 states from April 1 through June 30 may be about one-third greater than for corresponding months last year. This prospective increase is slightly greater than that actually recorded for the first three months.

4. Feedlots contain a bigger proportion of she-stock than they did a year ago. This fact indicates a reduction in demand for breeding stock and probably in rate of increase in breeding herds. On April 1 farmers in the Big Three States were feeding 291,000 heifers, 35 percent more than a year before.

Down 13 Per Cent

5. Stockers and feeders shipped into nine principal corn-belt states from January 1 to March 31 totaled 103,000 head — about 13 percent less than last year. Average costs were about $21.00 per hundred pounds — down 30 percent from last year.

6. Illinois farmers have not increased their cattle-feeding operations so much as have farmers in most other Corn-Belt states. On

$10 Memorial Voted at 4-H Board Meeting

AMBOY—The April 4-H federation meeting was held recently, opened by the president, Janet Schaffer, Dixon. The first order of business was announced by Miss Schaffer, who read the resignation of the federation reporter, Denton Swarts, Dixon, moved to cast a unanimous ballot for Tom Foster, West Brooklyn, as reporter. Delmar Kentner, Dixon, seconded the motion. The motion passed and Tom was elected.

Richard Lohse, Harmon, suggested a memorial to Verne Bothe by contributing $10 to Share and Care. The motion carried.

Following the business meeting the boys' and girls' groups met separately, headed by Art Seeda and June Pilgrim.

A guest at the meeting was David Breeze, Pawpaw, past president of the federation. David is now attending Western Illinois State college at Macomb.

Scratching May Indicate Disease

URBANA—If some of your sheep start rubbing off their wool, call your veterinarian to see why they're doing it.

Dr. N. D. Levine, animal parasitologist of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine, says sheep scab, a severe parasitic disease, is one reason why sheep rub off their wool. Another is scrapie, a severe virus disease that is a newcomer to Illinois.

April 1 farmers in Illinois were feeding only 12 percent more cattle than they were feeding the year before. By comparison, increases in some other states were: Nebraska 35 percent, and Iowa, Missouri and Indiana each 20 percent.

Milk Fever Picks Herd's Best Cows

URBANA—Milk fever of dairy cows is a "choosy" disease—it shuns the poor or average cow and picks on profitable high producers. The University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine says milk fever strikes when a cow takes too much calcium from her blood to produce milk. This usually happens only to the best cows in the herd.

Milk fever is predictable in other ways, too. It usually shows up one to three days after calving; it seldom appears in first-calf heifers; cows seldom recover without treatment; and treatment is usually remarkably effective.

Cows with milk fever usually die unless they're treated, the College of Veterinary Medicine states. Yet they sometimes respond so rapidly to treatment by the veterinarian that they are on their feet before he has finished.

Dairymen are warned, however, not to give a cow liquid by way of the mouth while she has milk fever. If her throat is paralyzed by the disease, the liquid may go into the lungs and cause pneumonia.

DAIRYMEN!

Guard against scours and bloat with KENT KATTL-BULK

If your cows are getting only pasture and grain this spring, you may be asking for real trouble. In addition to the always present danger of scours and bloat, too much pasture may cause a serious drop in milk production. Help prevent scours and bloat and keep production up by adding 1 to 2 pounds of KENT KATTL-BULK daily to the grain and protein ration.

KENT KATTL-BULK supplements pasture grass — promotes bacterial action in the rumen — improves digestion and boosts milk production. Also, highly palatable KATTL-BULK brings dairy cows up to the barn at milking time.

Stop in and arrange for your supply of KENT KATTL-BULK today. Ask for a free copy of the fact-packed booklet on dairy management, "The Kent Milk Making Program."

BEEF FEEDERS! Kent Kattl-Bulk brings beef cattle up to the feed bunk. They eat more grain when highly nutritious, palatable Kattl-Bulk is added to the ration. Gains are faster on grass — and cheaper — when you feed Kent Kattl-Bulk.

"THE FEED WITHOUT A FILLER"

Experts See Good Poultry Prices in '53

Poultry specialists see more profit in eggs — at least until late 1953. So more attention to your poultry flock might help take up any slack in profits you might have in other farm operations.

Here are ways suggested by Capper's Farmer to take advantage of higher egg prices:

1. Keep pullets away from older birds. An all-pullet flock is a good answer to the segregation problem.
2. Raise pullets on good pasture — probably the largest single factor of good health. S. F. Ridden, Illinois extension poultryman, says the best way to get large eggs early is to give pullets all the feed and good clean range they can use. Lading makes excellent pasture.
3. Cull out boarders — spot loafers early — to save feed costs.
4. Provide plenty of floor and feeder space.
5. Watch protein level.

Surplus Pasture May Bring Profit As Grass Silage

URBANA—If you expect to have excess pasture this spring, you might want to consider the advantages of storing it in the form of stack or trench silage for future use.

H. A. Cate, assistant in animal science at the Dixon Springs Experiment Station, points out that making the extra grass and legume forage into silage eliminates the big hazard of rain in a first-cutting hay crop.

Even with excellent drying weather, Cate says, the field curing and handling required in making dry hay results in a 10 to 30 percent loss of potential feed, mainly through loss of shattered leaves. Ensiling this same crop would save much of the protein-rich leaves.

Electric School Ends for Lee County 4-H Members

AMBOY—The 1953 4-H electric project school was recently completed with an average attendance of approximately 35 4-H'ers at the five meetings held.

Harlan Baker, Dixon, agriculture engineer with the Public Service company of Northern Illinois, was in charge of the meetings, which taught 4-H members about many phases of electrical work and their association with electricity on the farm.

A highlight of the meetings was a two-hour session on electric motor care and maintenance, when the 4-H'ers brought in motors and worked on them.

A special project and demonstration which many Lee county people will see this summer is a wiring board constructed by John White, Rt. 4, Dixon.

According to Arthur Seeds, assistant farm adviser, the 4-H'ers attending the last meeting have

Craft Projects Explained to 4-H

AMBOY—Dick Lawson, assistant state recreation specialist, and Hubert J. Wetzel, 4-H extension specialist, told Lee county 4-H members and leaders about handicraft projects at a recent meeting in the Farm Bureau crafts room.

Three main crafts, which included basket weaving, metal work and game-board construction, were introduced at the meeting. The thirty people who attended worked on their projects.

How to make and keep good hay...

First... cut your hay crop at the right stage of growth... when it's leafy, green in color, fine-stemmed and high in protein.

You can get the job done fast... ahead of weather—with an Allis-Chalmers No. 5 Mower. It's side-mounted, with hydraulic lift and double V-belt drive.

Second... bale your hay as quickly as windrows cure, with your own ROTO-BALER. It saves the leaves and big capacity turns out fast tonnage. One-man operation saves labor.

Third... store your ROLLED bales as time permits. Why ROLLED bales? Leaf loss is reduced to a minimum... stem and leaves are rolled in with smooth roll-up compression. ROLLED bales resist moisture and rain and are the only bales that give "thatched-roof" protection. Twine wrapped, they will not buckle or come apart, and are easy to handle... easy to feed... easy to stack... easy to ship.

Hope Is Faint for Broader Peace Agreements by Reds

In spite of their determined barrage of peace talk, the Russians have not done one concrete thing which shows they really mean business.

Their answer to President Eisenhower's "peace" speech—that they are ready for "serious, businesslike" discussion of the great issues—is on the surface conciliatory in tone. Still, the proofs so far are lacking.

In Korea, the Communists have released to us 684 UN soldiers held prisoner, including 149 Americans. Because we value individual life highly, we are grateful we can reclaim even these few men from the wreckage of war.

But measured against the large backdrop of that conflict, the number is small. Against the canvas of the whole world struggle it is infinitesimal. Viewed coldly, it means the Reds have given up some men who can do us little good militarily, and were simply costing them money and material to keep imprisoned.

We may gain more in the weeks ahead. The revived truce talks in Panmunjon have not started happily. Red proposals for exchange of able-bodied prisoners seem unreasonable. Nevertheless, Moscow and Peiping may soften their position as talks go on.

Beyond that, the deeds both sides wish to see as proof of earnest intent will come much harder. The president talked of a general Far Eastern settlement, signatures on an Austrian treaty, free elections for a unified Germany, real disarmament and world-wide economic reconstruction.

But to make genuine headway on almost any of these matters would demand from the Soviet Union sharp departure from the fundamental course of conquest it has long pursued. Indeed, it would require abandoning practices inherent in a police-state dictatorship. Chances for such changes are not bright.

Take Korea and the Far East. The Reds would not likely allow a unified, free Korea or call off the Indo-Chinese war unless they got something in return. At the least they would want Peiping to gain Formosa and a UN seat.

But the state of congressional and general public opinion in the U. S. is a heavy bar to such concessions from us. We are not ready to accept Red China into the family of respectable nations.

Austria and Germany are no more cheerful prospects. To sign an Austrian treaty means to the Russians pulling out their troops not only in Austria, but in Hungary and Rumania on the path from Russia. To allow Germany to unite under real elections would be to risk all Moscow has built in East Germany since World War II.

Disarmament is a misty hope. The West would insist on vital inspection features to enforce any program. So long as Russia remains a police state, acceptance of such inspection looks remote.

World reconstruction is an even fainter likelihood. To accept such a plan would be to endorse the undermining of the Communist revolution, which feeds on poverty. It is hard to see the Reds cooperating with the West in wiping out the conditions under which they breed best.

Mr. Eisenhower's speech covered a wide range of possibilities, from small beginnings to great and distant hopes. Despite all the Kremlin's words, there is little sign we are likely to achieve more than the beginnings—if that much.

The Russian bear may be trying to sound like a gentler animal. But he still has the same old lumbering gait and predatory purpose.

Switch to Clubs Is Correct Play

By OSWALD JACOBY

When the Intercollegiate Contract Bridge tournament for 1953 was held recently, teams representing Purdue and Princeton universities won. More than 300 students in 110 leading colleges and universities in all parts of the United States took part in the contest.

Frank McClure of Wooster, Ohio, and Carey Yelton Jr., of Warren, Ohio, played the North-South cards and won for Purdue. Harlow S. Lewis, II, of Ben Avon

West's ace, West's best defense is to return a heart, dummy winning with the ace. South now ruffs another diamond, and is much relieved when this is not overruled.

South cashes the rest of his clubs, takes the queen of hearts and the king of hearts, and is lucky enough to get all of these tricks by without a ruff by West. The risk must be taken, however, for if West can ruff the hand is hopeless.

By this time, both West and South are reduced to three trumps. South leads a low trump towards dummy's nine, and West is helpless. He must step up with the jack of trumps to win the trick, and now he must return a spade up to South's king-ten.

A substantial number of college bridge players made this difficult contract, thus indicating that our colleges will soon produce a new crop of bridge experts.

Pegler Finds HST's Time of Birth, Birthplace Lending To His Loyalty to "Scoundrels," Dislike for McCarthy

TUCSON—Bearing in mind that Harry Truman was born in La-Mar, Mo., in 1884, two years after Jesse James was killed, and that since early childhood, he has lived in Independence, where Jesse and Frank were popular heroes, we come at the reason for his pugnacious loyalty to Tom Pendergast, Alger Hiss and lesser scoundrels of his cult. His violent temper and his detestation of Joe McCarthy for exposing traitorism in his State department are consistent with this background.

Senator McCarthy stands in the same position that was occupied by Governor Thomas T. Crittenden, of Missouri, who procured the assassination of Jesse James by a treacherous subordinate and caused the surrender of his brother, Frank. The reason Frank came in and turned his guns over to Crittenden was that he was afraid that some trusted accomplice would shoot him in the back as Bob Ford had shot his brother. He had finally faked it because he could trust no man.

Governor Crittenden thus broke up the James gang and inspired rural police and vigilantes to a bold initiative which abruptly wiped out several new small, upstart bunches of marauders. He redeemed Missouri's reputation, and her nickname, "The Robber State" soon was lived down. Her commerce and society, which had been badly embarrassed by the James gang, took normal form.

Yet, Governor Crittenden was set upon by some of the press and much of the public. As in McCarthy's case, it was not his purpose or his success which raised objection. No; it was his "methods." Governor Crittenden had persuaded the railroads, which were suffering much loss in loot and passenger revenue, to offer rewards for the arrest of Jesse and Frank and their followers. The proclamation did not promise a reward for them "dead or alive," which was a common phrase in such matters then and still is, for that matter. But Crittenden certainly did have in mind the probability that some subordinate member of the gang would rise to the bait.

Bob and Charles Ford, brothers, were tried for murdering Jesse and sentenced to hang. Crittenden pardoned them at once "on grounds of public policy." As recently as 1934 in commenting on the case of John Dillinger, who was killed by FBI men but with a price of $25,000 on his head "dead or alive" were this public service rendered by local police or civilians, the Louisville Courier-Journal observed that Crittenden "was through politically" and that he "never was nominated for anything again." The Courier-Journal did not endorse this popular repudiation of Crittenden. But it did recall that for years afterward one of the most popular sentimental songs of the people ran:

"And the dirty little coward
Who shot Mr. Howard
Has laid Jesse James
In his grave."

Jesse had adopted the name of Howard for his sojourn at the Ford's home in St. Joe, where Bob shot him in the back of the head. The Jefferson City Tribune, commenting on the surrender of Frank said, "We may not endorse the methods employed by the Fords to rid the world of Jesse James but the fact that he is gone reconciles us. However Governor Crittenden may have erred and blundered, he can always point with pride to the extermination of this band."

In the Alger Hiss case the attitude of the enlightened Washington Post, which is personally and politically devoted to Felix Frankfurter, the original, official sponsor of Alger Hiss, not only condemned the "method" of the House on Un-American Activities in laying the heels of this protégé of a sordid political clique but actually sorrowed for Hiss. It held his conduct to be less evil of itself than the timing thereof. To be sure, McCarthy had no part in this case, but it illustrates the point.

A dispatch from an unidentified paper published in the Crittenden Memoirs and bearing the dateline of Truman's home town of Independence reveals the popular idolatry of Frank James on his railroad trip from Jefferson City to "Independence," where he was delivered to the sheriff. The dispatch said:

"At every stopping place great crowds had congregated. . . Men, women and children crowded the aisles to look at him. Hundreds of others outside the windows devoured him with eager looks. Many rushed impetuously forward and grasped his hands. Many a heartfelt prayer went up for his acquittal." One man called out, "How are you, Frank? We are all friends up this way." At Pleasant Hill, LaMonte, Warrensburg and Holden, big crowds had gathered and "not a harsh word was spoken."

Arrived in triumph at last in Independence, Frank James was allowed to receive 500 old friends, "among them many of the wealthiest, most popular and most influential men in the county," in a hotel room. A great many ladies called on his mother, Mrs. Samuels, a tough old frontier woman of the dark and bloody ground who had lost an arm when a detective, trying for the reward, tossed a grenade into her home. "One old farmer spoke up,"

The Doctor Says:

Sharp, Repeated Headaches Are a Problem to Diagnose

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Unfortunately is the person who suffers from recurring headaches. Such, for example, is I. D., who writes, "What, if any, is the cause and remedy for those horrible headaches which come on suddenly at the back of the head? After they have subsided that spot on my head remains sore to the touch. It is always worse on the left side than on the right. What does this suggest?"

There are, it must be recognized, several kinds of recurring headaches. Some of them are on an emotional basis, others are labeled migraine, and in still others additional causes are recognized.

It is now believed, however, that most headaches are associated with changes in the circulation of the blood vessels in the brain, though the cause of such changes may differ from person to person.

In I. D.'s case the fact that the headaches are largely on one side suggests migraine, a condition the origin of which is still somewhat shrouded in obscurity.

So far as remedies for migraine are concerned, there are drugs available which often can abort or halt an attack if they are given at the earliest possible moment. These drugs, however, are powerful, and are not without danger, so they should be taken only under careful supervision.

In general, severe or repeated headaches, are difficult diagnostic problems. The complete history of the attacks, the kind and location of pain, and the preceding symptoms, if any, must be studied.

A complete physical examination should be made. The sinuses need to be eliminated as a cause and so do the eyes. Special tests may have to be used in order to find out whether the headaches come from a local relaxation of the blood vessels.

TWO STEPS INVOLVED

The treatment of any type of severe headache involves two steps. The first step is to try to relieve the immediate difficulty as rapidly as possible. Certain types of headaches, especially the so-called "bilious" type, can often be relieved by simple pain-killing drugs, like aspirin. The more severe varieties may go on in spite of any drugs given.

The second step is to try to identify the cause or at least the physical or emotional factors which tend to bring on the headaches. If these can be successfully attacked, the headaches often can be made to appear less frequently.

During colonial times a ship load of iron pyrites, a comparatively worthless mineral, was shipped to England from the United States in the belief that it was gold.

just doesn't realize that his are so undesirable.

If the rest of the family starts talking about good manner it may wake him up to the carelessness that has become a habit with him.

If it doesn't then his wife may decide to tell him frankly that she wishes he would be more careful of his table manners because of the example he sets the children and because she wants him always to appear at his best before others.

That certainly would be kinder than letting his children grow up feeling ashamed of him.

"I'll use our best silver and china for dinner every night and I'll serve the food as attractively as I can, then let's see if we can make our manners match."

WRONG: Say flatly: "I don't drink."

RIGHT: Say, "No, thank you."

Efficiency in Dressing Can Save Minutes

By ALICIA HART

Do you know how much time you need for dressing in the morning and undressing at night?

Why not look at the clock the moment you begin your dressing and grooming activities and make a note of it? Then forget the clock. Continue in your usual way and check the time when you're finished.

You may be horrified at the time you've spent or you may congratulate yourself on your efficiency. If you feel you've spent more time than is necessary and desirable, why not think out what you can do to cut corners and dovelait activities?

A few examples may start you on your way to greater efficiency. You can let your cleansing cream sink in while you brush your teeth, and the bath water can be running at the same time. You can let your girdle soak while you hank up your stockings.

You might keep clean bath towels, soaps, dusting powder and other bathing requisites in the bathroom. If you make up there, why not have a convenient arrangement in the bathroom for yourself? Such arrangements are always entirely personal—one can only suggest that you save yourself steps by having your equipment in as convenient a place as possible.

Eliminate clutter which tends to accumulate in a girl's grooming space. This clutter confuses your mind and wastes your time.

Garden Club To Present Annual Flower School

CHICAGO — (Special) — The flower show school will be held in Fullerton hall of the Art Institute May 6 and 7 and at the Conrad Hilton hotel May 8.

"The enrollment of members of garden clubs from all over the state are coming in," says Mrs. Harold J. Bluhm, LaGrange, who is state flower show school chairman for the fourth year. The school, aside from having a large attendance from this state, brings students from other states. Registrations have been received from Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin. It is the largest school of its kind in the Middle West.

The school will be opened Wednesday morning, May 6, at 9:15 a.m. by Mrs. John Jones Sharon, president of the Garden Club of Illinois. She will be followed by Prof. Hubert B. Owens, head of the school of landscape architecture, University of Georgia, who will lecture on "Landscape Design," which is part of Course V as outlined by the National Council of State Garden club's "Handbook for Flower Shows"—the course to be given this year.

Prof. Owens is a native of Georgia and obtained his education at the University of Georgia, Harvard university and in Europe. He was brought to the University of Georgia to establish a department of landscape architecture in the 1930s.

This department has gained nationwide recognition and is one of 12 fully accredited such departments offering professional training in this field in the U. S. He was the first person to serve as chairman of landscape design for the National Council of State Garden clubs, appointed in April, 1952.

Trustee of the American Society of Landscape Architecture in 1951-1954 and president Southeastern chapter of the American Society of Landscape Architects 1951-52, are a few of his many outstanding contributions to this field.

At 1 p.m. of the same day, George L. Pring, superintendent of Missouri Botanical gardens, St. Louis, will talk on "Horticulture." Pring was born in Devonshire, England, and graduated from Queens school, Kew; won a Kew gardens scholarship, and was awarded Kew studentship.

He has made several explorations to collect orchids and rare plants in the Andes of Columbia, Panama, West Indies and Costa Rica. Pring has been awarded several medals in water lilies, orchids and plant breeding. He was trustee of the American Orchid society in 1949-51 and president of the Kew guild, London, 1950-51.

Thursday at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Loren R. Dodson, Larchmont, N. Y., will cover the course on "Flower Arrangement." Her theme will be color and period arrangements.

Brush Shoulders After Tending Hair

By ALICIA HART

Teen-agers, don't you dislike it when you must be close to someone's shoulder in a crowded place and find yourself inches from those sloopy grooming — dandruff and loose hairs?

Persons who are guilty of those grooming faults aren't usually aware of them. So they should stand as a warning to all of us to beware of these things in ourselves.

Whenever your comb and brush your hair, automatically pick up your clothes brush and thoroughly go over your shoulders and arms. If you bend your body and head well forward as you brush, the hairs and scales will go on the floor instead of on your clothes.

It's a good idea to brush your hair last thing at night and first thing in the morning, brushing first in the opposite direction from that in which the hairs lie. You'll be wearing your nightgown and can avoid the problem of hair and dandruff on your dresses.

When you comb and brush your hair during the day with your pocket-size comb and brush, get out your miniature whisk-broom or clothes brush and clean up your shoulders.

An important preventive measure is to keep your combs and brushes, including those in your handbag, scrupulously clean. Many girls own two hair brushes, in addition to the miniature one, so they'll always have one clean and dry.

When you have finished brushing your hair, why not wash the brush immediately? It may save time and annoyance later.

country, is to raise the standard of the community shows—the local flower shows which do so much to stimulate interest in horticulture in the various localities. The flower show school aids these local flower shows in two ways—it provides accredited judges so the shows will be fairly judged, and teaches the exhibitors of the show how to grow and exhibit their plant material in the best possible manner.

The school is open to all who are interested, whether members of garden clubs or not. There is a fee for the full course of lectures or for a single lecture. Tickets are available at the Garden Club of Illinois headquarters in the Palmer House.

The examinations, which are optional, will be held May 8 in the north ballroom of the Conrad Hilton hotel from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The 4-H report was given by Mrs. William Shipper and the legislative report was by Mrs. Charles Koessler.

As Funds Grow Unions Search for Investments

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (U)—Labor union funds continue to grow.

Pushed upward by swelling pensions and welfare funds, total assets are estimated now to be around 1½ billion dollars, a gain of about 50 per cent in four years. Search for profitable investment makes these dollars a potential force in the financial world.

One field in which unions report good growth in recent months is that of insurance. There are insurance companies owned by union locals and by the benefit association of a national labor group. In Texas is a growing company in which the majority of stock is owned by individual union members on a strictly business risk basis.

Gets Push
Postwar popularity of group insurance has given the labor insurance business its big push. But rising interest rates are helping also to bring in the money.

One of the oldest and largest—The Union Labor Life Insurance Co.—reports that "higher interest rates on new investments" boosted its net yield from 2.88 per cent in 1952. This compares with the average for all insurance companies, which the Institute of Life Insurance puts at 2.88 per cent in 1951 and 3.07 per cent in 1952.

Started 27 years ago, the Union Labor Life Insurance Co., is owned by American Federation of Labor locals. Its money is invested in government bonds, railroads, gas and electric companies, industrial firms, savings and loan associations and first mortgages.

It reports its assets went up 14 per cent last year, cash receipts increased 11 per cent and insurance in force rose by 55 million dollars to a total of $408,776,233. It writes life insurance on an individual or group basis and health and accident insurance on a group basis.

Football Player Held for Part In Bank Holdup

CHICAGO (U)—Glenn Chernick, 22, former Marquette University football player, today was held in $40,000 bond for a hearing May 14 on a charge of attempted robbery of the Southwest bank in St. Louis.

At least four men participated in the robbery attempt Friday. Two of them were wounded and captured in a gun battle with police.

Two Divorces Granted in Ogle Court

OREGON (Special)—Two divorce decrees have been issued and one complaint for divorce filed in circuit court here.

Granted divorces were Betty L. Rimmer from James T. Rimmer, both of Mt. Morris, and Donna Stone from LeRoy Stone, both of Oregon.

Cruelty was charged in both cases.

The Rimmers were married June 1, 1946, in Greenville, N. C. The plaintiff received custody of their minor child, permission to take the child to Covington, Ky., and $15 weekly support.

Weekly support of $10 and custody of two minor children were awarded Mrs. Stone. The Stones were married Aug. 21, 1951.

Betty Sloan has named Joseph Sloan defendant in a complaint for divorce which also charges cruelty. Both are of Rochelle.

The plaintiff asks custody of a minor child.

They were married July 21, 1947, in Dixon.

In other circuit court action, Earle Barnhart, Byron, has entered suit for $400 against Charles C. Nelson, Oregon. Barnhart asserts the money is owed him on a loan he made to the defendant.

Judge Balks On License Fines, Claim

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U)—Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said today a Peoria justice of the peace failed to cooperate in a state crackdown on truck and passenger car operators lacking 1953 license plates.

Investigators from Carpenter's office set up three checkpoints in the Peoria area Monday, arrested 200 drivers for not having licenses and took them before Justice of the Peace John F. Daugherty.

Carpenter said in a statement that Daugherty, instead of making the operators apply for new plates immediately, either dismissed them, assessed small fines or released them on low bonds.

The secretary of state said Daugherty's action "impeded" the campaign against delinquent vehicle owners.

"I have talked to the governor and the attorney general and they have assured me the full powers of their offices are behind me," Carpenter added.

He said the crackdown in Peoria would continue today but that motorists arrested will be taken before a different justice of the peace.

Polish Flyer Who Fled Reds Coming to U.S.

MUNICH, Germany (U)—Lt. Franciszek Jarewski, a Polish air force pilot who escaped to the West in a Soviet MIG-15, left here today by plane for the United States.

He said he would catch a plane in London tomorrow for America, where he will take part in several Polish-American celebrations.

The 20-year-old pilot said he wanted to join the U. S. Air Force, if possible, so he could go to Korea to fight the Communists.

U. S. Air Force authorities said Jarewski could enlist in the Air Force after applying for naturalization papers and then train as a crew member pending a possible commission.

Jarewski is going to the United States on a special permit. Attorney general Herbert Brownell waived the usual screening requirements in Jarewski's case.

The pilot said at a news conference here that he was a member of the Communist party but that he had to join in order to become a flyer in the Polish Air Force.

He made it clear that he does not believe in communism and that one of the purposes of his flight to Denmark was to show the world that Poles are a freedom-loving people.

The MIG-15 which he flew to Denmark's Island of Bornholm last month was the first such undamaged jet which Allied experts have been able to examine.

Stratton Signs Bill to Ease Rent Evictions

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U)—Gov. William G. Stratton has signed into law a bill he backed in the Illinois legislature to ease evictions in hardship cases.

The governor put his enacting signature on the bill Monday. He also signed a bill abolishing the fish and game conservation advisors and board of park advisers in the Conservation department, and setting up an advisory board to the department.

Another bill approved by Stratton authorizes a fire protection district to contract with any corporation or adjacent fire protection district for fire protection service.

110 Teams Enter Bowling Tournament

7th Annual City Bowl Begins Mon.

Record Prize Fund Expected; Schedules Being Mailed Now

With entries still coming in Ed Worley, secretary of the annual Men's City Ass'n. Handicap Bowling championships reports a record entry of 110 teams to date. Entries in the doubles stand at 102 at this writing, with the singles entry of 184 still four away from the all-time high of 188.

The teams will start firing away at the new ABC kingpins Monday night when 16 teams attempt to set up a score large enough to withstand the balance of the week's bombardment. Doubles and singles events will start the following Monday, May 11th running through Sunday, May 17.

Bowlers have plenty of time yet to enter the meet as American Bowling Congress rules allow keepers to enter anytime up to the starting date of the tourney which is May 4th. This rule applies to any event.

Another record is possible this year. Total prize funds have already passed the $2,000 mark. The all time high was established last year at the Lincoln Lanes with a big $2,080.00 jackpot. An exact figure will not be known until May 4th. Worley urges all bowlers who have not paid their entry fees to do so before Saturday, May 2. Entry fees can be paid to either alley proprietor or to Worley.

Bowlers this year will be shooting to replace these winners in the 1952 tourney:

Team—Freeman Shoes (LL) 2930.
Doubles—Jim Heaton-Clyde Andreas 1280
Singles—Forrest Teer 680
All Events—Orin Lovin 1872
Scratch All Events—Forrest Teer 1783

Tourney Awards

In addition to the top cash awards of $150.00 in the team event, $60.00 in the doubles, $30.00 in the singles and $25.00 for top all events score, and championship plaques will be awarded to the winners of each event.

In order to run team events on schedule, it is necessary for all team captains to report to Worley at the Recreation a half hour before the scheduled starting time in order to draw pins for starting alleys and to present lineups and report ABC numbers.

Schedules are being mailed to team captains and will continue each day this week. Captains should receive a schedule approximately one week before the time their teams are scheduled to bowl in the team event.

Prize winning checks will be distributed at the Recreation Saturday night, May 23, Monday night, May 25, and Tuesday night, May 26.

Bowlers this year will be shooting at these all time City Tourney records:

Team—(1950) Naylor & Co. 1051-1037-1054 3112
Doubles—(1947)—Cliff Volk, Glen Willard 436-435-475 1516
Singles—(1950) Jack Hipple 202
All Events—(1948) John "Friday" Shultz 1939

High Ind. Game—(1919) Ed Worley 288
High Team Game—(1918) Naylor & Co. 1116

Tourney Notes

All tournament bowling will be cross-alley, bowlers moving one pair of alleys to the right after each game.

Official scores again will record all games in this year's meet. Brunswick ABC king pins again will be used. Handicaps will be figured at 80 per cent of the difference between each bowler's highest season average and 100 average. Regardless of in which league or establishment he holds his highest average.

Chisox to Test Rookie Today;

CHICAGO — (P) — Manager Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox will seek starting-pitcher material, gives rookie Connie Johnson his first big chance today.

The big Negro lad was chosen to oppose Walt Masterson in today's Sox-Washington game at Comiskey Park.

Johnson won 18 and lost nine last season with the Sox farm club at Colorado Springs, Colo. He was called to the Chicago spring training camp merely to pitch batting practice but looked so good he was placed on the White Sox roster.

Richards is trying to line up two or three starters to use along with Billy Pierce, Saul Rogovin and Joe Dobson. Johnson, a strike-out expert in the minors, may earn one of the spots if his performance today is worthy.

The Chicago Cubs, meanwhile, were off on an eastern swing, opening tonight with the first of three games at Pittsburgh. The second-place Cubs, confident they've got a sound club, will send Rob Rusk (1-1), against Murry Dickson (1-2).

Red Grange Speaks at Oregon Fete

NBC Suspends Tom Duggan Second Time

CHICAGO (P) — The National Broadcasting Company, for the second time in two months, has released its controversial Chicago sports announcer, Tom Duggan.

The radio and TV personality was let out "because of his failures to adhere to . . . standard operating policies requiring all material for broadcast to be cleared in advance," said the network.

There was no elaboration from officials of WNBQ-TV and WMAQ (Chicago NBC outlets) nor was there immediate comment from Duggan.

NBC suspended Duggan last Feb. 24 for "unauthorized personal attacks" on James Norris, president of the International Boxing Club. He was reinstated a couple of weeks later after fans bombarded the network with protesting telephone calls and letters.

In a copyright story by Duggan in the American, the sportscaster said he was accused by NBC Chicago officials of damaging gate receipts of the Rocky Marciano-Jersey Joe Walcott heavyweight title fight to be in Chicago Stadium May 15 on his telecast Sunday. The officials he named were Jules Herbeux, NBC television director for the Chicago area, and Bill Ray, head of news and special events.

"Herbeux and Ray both told me they considered my remarks on Sunday night's broadcast damaging to the gate receipts of the heavyweight championship fight," Duggan explained in his story. "They said the National Broadcasting Co. was in effect a co-promoter with the International Boxing Club in the staging of this fight and they could not tolerate any criticism of it. Mr. Herbeux said he did not feel that any criticism of a sports event was warranted prior to its staging."

"My television remarks of last Sunday concerned only local references to Walcott's age, the ability of Rocky Marciano, and the $50 price of ringside seats."

Herbeux said he had no further comment on the matter.

14 Independents Practice

Team Needs Pitchers, Infielders

Practices Planned For Rest of Week At Reynolds Field

Fourteen baseball players from the Dixon area reported for the first night's practice of the Dixon Independents, latest entry into the Northern Illinois Amateur league.

There were seven candidates for the outfield as well as one for either outfield or catcher. Only five infielders reported while pitching appeared the weakest position as far as numbers where two candidates showed up.

A second evening practice is set for tonight at which time Bill Long, organizer of the team, hopes additional candidates will be on hand, especially, pitchers, catchers and infielders. Practice will begin at 6 p.m. at the east diamond at Reynolds field. Additional sessions will be held every night this week.

Long reported that a league meeting is set for Tuesday tonight at Rockford at which time rosters are to be submitted but he felt this would not be required because of the lack of opportunity to practice and cut the squad to the 18 player limit.

While not definite, Long listed Ed Gehant, pitcher for Loras college, Dubuque, formerly hurling for West Brooklyn, as the probable starting pitcher in the first game Sunday. Ed Friel, Amboy, formerly with the Blackhawk A.C. of Rockford, is the other pitcher at present on the roster.

One Catcher

Herb Long, Amboy, is the lone catching candidate and he is also listed as an outfielder.

Two Dixon players reported for the first practice and Long stated that three others had reported Sunday but did not make it last night. Bus Engler, who played three years with the Roberts and Hess Knacks as an outfielder and Jack Boyle, who has played outfield with Sublette and West Brooklyn, are both candidates from Dixon.

Amboy players include: Gene Rackley, infielder; Jim Montavon, infielder; Jim Ross, outfielder; Bob Garland, outfielder; and Bill Long, outfielder.

Walton players: Jim Jackson, infielder; Jim Morrissey, outfielder; and Wayne Hoyle, infielder.

Gene Michel, West Brooklyn outfielder and Bob Anderson, Maytown outfielder, round out the present list of candidates.

Dixon Athletes Will Receive D's Thursday

Dixon Athletes will be honored at a special assembly at 8:20 a.m. Thursday when letters for the basketball and wrestling teams will be presented.

Captains for the past season for both squads will be named and the free throw award will be presented to the center with the best shooting percentage from the charity line.

Bob Hanes Wins Lions Sport Trophy

Famed Griddler Tells What Makes A Good Athlete

By NORM JOLLOW
Telegraph Sports Editor
OREGON—Telling stories out of his past, apparently mixing fact with fiction, Red Grange told members of the Oregon teams and guests what it takes to be an athlete.

Grange was guest speaker at the first annual Lion's club banquet at Oregon at which time athletic awards were presented.

Bob Hanes, senior member of the track, basketball and football teams received the Lion's award as the outstanding athlete based on the vote of faculty members for scholarship, sportsmanship, conduct and athletic ability.

Grange told several humorous stories about his high school, college and professional career and the athletes with whom he played.

The famed "Galloping Ghost" considered Bronko Nagurski as the greatest personality. He said that Nagurski was the only ball carrier he had ever seen that you did not have to worry about catching. He came right at you and then left you amazed.

Grange considered there were four things necessary to making a good athlete: Ability, intelligence, courage and above all, determination. The first three are not much use without determination, Grange said.

"Many of you can be athletes if you want to be," he said, "but it requires a lot of training. And training is hard work." But it pays big dividends, he added.

Grange warned the players not to become athletic bums. "Set yourself up to do something when your career is over. Get an education so that you can find another place in life when you are too old for athletics," he said.

"Sports are necessary," Grange claimed, "but they are secondary. Education should come first."

Discipline, teamwork and ability to be a gracious winner and loser are the things that should be derived from sports. Grange said he did not like a "good loser," but rather a gracious one. Losing should make you feel that you could beat him by 100 points the next time you meet, he said.

Letter awards were presented to the following:

WHAT'S THE SCORE

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS of the Junior chamber of commerce met last night and tentatively decided to sponsor the junior baseball leagues in Dixon this year. The program hinges on the Jaycees ability to line up a suitable director for the program.

If the Jaycees operate the loop, it will be run upon the same basis that it was controlled under the sponsorship of the Jaycees in the past.

TWO LEAGUES OF EIGHT TEAMS each will be formed one in the Junior division for boys from 10 through 12 and one in the senior division for boys from 13 through 15. Boys who turn 13 before August 1 will have to participate in the senior loop and boys turning 16 before August 1, will not be eligible.

Two games a week are planned for each team and there probably will be one night game during the season for each team. The league will operate five afternoons a week and one night.

REGISTRATION WILL BE HANDLED through the schools as it has been in the past. Players then will be placed with a team at the discretion of the director in an attempt to produce balanced leagues.

The entire program, we repeat, is tentative. At present, the Jaycees have not committed themselves to definitely accepting the responsibility of operating the leagues.

WE HAVE BEEN BECOMING MORE AND MORE provoked at the citizenry and organizations in Dixon because until now, at least, there has not been an organization come forth to sponsor an athletic banquet for Dixon high school. It appears that Dixon is to be the only town in the vicinity to forget the athletes.

It makes one wonder about Dixon. The report I have heard time and again is that Dixon is not a sports town. It certainly is becoming more and more apparent that such a statement is true.

WHY SHOULD THIS BE SO? Must the school produce a winner every year in order for the citizenry to get out their best bib and tucker to fete the heroes? Is it not possible to say thank you to the boys simply because they represented our town.

Dixon is the largest city in the trade area and yet it is the only one to forget its athletes. Larger cities such as Sterling, have had more than one banquet for their athletes.

WHERE ARE THE DIXON CIVIC organizations who take great pride in their contributions to better community? Why not spend a few bucks to give a little credit to the younger generation?

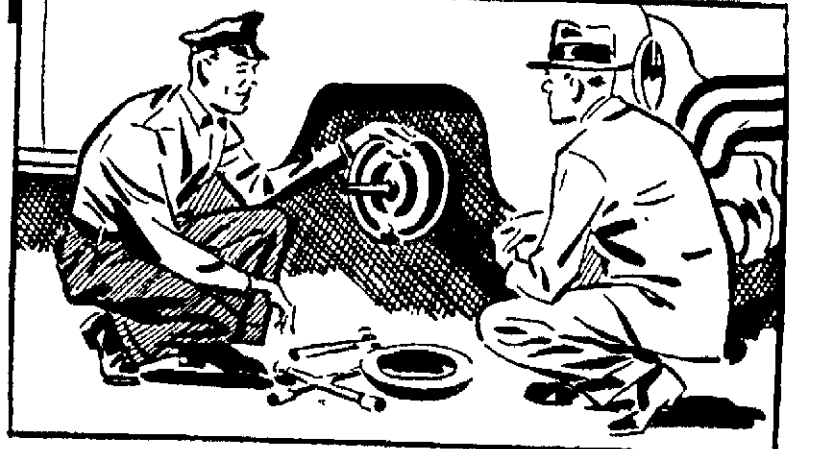

The last banquet, I understand was sponsored by a few individuals who took the initiative upon themselves and then had to carry the ball all the way. But they made a success of it.

IT'S STILL NOT TOO LATE. Not if one of the civic clubs gets behind it and publicize it as much as they do their campaigns to raise money. Let's show the other towns in the area that we, too, are proud of our athletes, win or lose!!!

NATO Brass Study New U. S. Arms

OBERAMMERGAU, Germany (AP)—Mankind's most terrible weapons became a classroom study today in this little Bavarian town where Christ's crucifixion is enacted each decade.

Key commanders of the North Atlantic Treaty allies were on hand for the opening of two unprecedented U. S.-offered courses on the tactical use of atomic weapons and the development of defenses against them.

The instruction, directed by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's U. S. command in Europe, will be given by American Army, Air Force and Navy specialists under strict secrecy wraps.

Defense Department spokesmen in Washington said earlier, however, that no restricted information would be given the students. This means that the U. S. is keeping the lid clamped tightly over its secrets on the production of atomic weapons.

The first course, lasting four days, is for major generals or their equivalent in other services. The second will last 10 days and some 30 officers from Army Corps staffs and their equivalents will be the students.

Union Pacific Pileups Kill 2, Injure 4

DENVER — (AP) — Two train accidents 300 miles apart—one involving a passenger streamliner—killed two Union Pacific railroad crewmen and injured four others Monday.

The passenger train, the Union Pacific's westbound San Francisco Overland Limited, crashed into a gasoline truck outside Denver and spewed flaming fuel over two cars. Another car carrying a cargo of explosives was towed out of danger and all 200 passengers escaped injury.

The other accident was a Union Pacific freight derailment at Red Desert in southwestern Wyoming. It blocked the railroad's double main line, causing the Chicago-to-San Francisco passenger train to be rerouted via Denver.

Both deaths occurred in the Wyoming derailment. Trapped and killed as a big steam locomotive toppled over were engineer Leo G. Murphy, 42, and fireman Lawrence Endres, 23, both from Rawlins. Brakeman James R. Anderson, 37, of Rawlins, also was pinned in the locomotive. Workers using torches and hacksaws finally freed him more than 10 hours later. He suffered burns and a leg injury. The cause of the derailment had not been determined.

In the other accident, burning gasoline sprayed over a two-block area. Three trainmen suffered burns. The truck driver escaped injury. Officials said a large amount of mail in the mail car was destroyed.

Moran Out of Judgeship Race

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. — (AP) — The state's attorney of Rock Island County, Bernard J. Moran, has taken himself out of contention for a vacancy on the Illinois Supreme Court.

Moran, a Democrat, said Monday he will not "under any circumstances" be receptive to a nomination for the post left vacant earlier this month by the death of Albert Crampton of Moline.

His statement leaves two in the running for the nomination by the Democrats at their convention in Macomb May 7. They are John Reardon of Quincy and R. L. Norbett of Cass county.

Moran said a campaign pledge to work for strict law enforcement in Rock Island county keeps him out of the running for the Supreme Court post. He said it would cost about $16,000 to elect another state's attorney if he resigned.

Roger Touhy Returned to State Prison

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — Roger (The Terrible) Touhy is back in the Joliet penitentiary after 7 months in the Cook County Jail.

The convicted kidnapper had been in the jail since Sept. 8, 1932, when he appeared in federal court on his petition for a writ of habeas corpus to gain his freedom.

His presence was no longer required in Chicago after his lawyer filed a brief in support of his petition, so Touhy was returned to the penitentiary.

Touhy is serving a sentence for the 1933 kidnapping of John (Jake the Barber) Factor and an additional 199-year sentence for aiding in the escape of a fellow prisoner in 1912.

Baby-Sitter Problem Bound To Get Worse, Boyle Thinks

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—You think it's hard to find a good baby sitter today?

Well, here is the way the problem will probably size up by 1950: Joe McFarb and his wife, Mary Ann, decide to take a night off from parenthood and go out and see a movie. But who will stay home and watch little Junior? Joe calls the happy-home baby sitting agency, and the conversation runs as follows:

Joe—I would like a good baby sitter for tonight, and—

Agency—For tonight? Are you kidding? We are booked up through the spring and summer. How about next fall?

Joe—I don't know what movie will be showing next fall. Mary Ann and I want to see the one that's on tonight. Maybe you'll have a cancellation.

Agency—We don't like to do business on an emergency basis. Usually our sitters insist on having met our clients socially, to be sure they are proper people. They can't afford to get mixed up with the wrong crowd.

Joe—Look, I'm in a real spot. Can't you help a fellow?

Agency—Well, you and your wife and son had better drop down to our office at once. Bring along a recent photo of your home. We will also need a letter of credit from your bank, and a character testimonial from your pastor.

Joe (weakly)—Is that all?

Agency—Well, of course, naturally you are prepared to pay our usual limousine costs for picking up your sitter and co-sitter and returning them to their homes. They will expect a hot meal on their arrival, and refreshments in your refrigerator in case they should wish to entertain a few friends while on duty. It goes without saying that your television set must be in perfect condition.

Joe—Wait a minute. You lost

me. What is this business about a co-sitter?

Agency—All baby sitters today insist on bringing a co-sitter along for company. You know, like airplane pilots do.

Joe—How much is all this going to cost me?

Agency—Our minimum fee is $75, but right now we aren't taking on any more of these charity cases.

Joe—Look, Mister. I want to make you a proposition. To heck with the movie. What I want to know is, if I shoot Junior, can Mary Ann and I go to work for you as baby sitters?

Agency—You can. But be quick. I've got four jobs waiting for you right now. All high class.

Gen. MacArthur To Visit Manila

MANILA (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur plans to visit the Philippines soon, his former pilot said today.

Col. Anthony Story said MacArthur told him of his plans in New York recently.

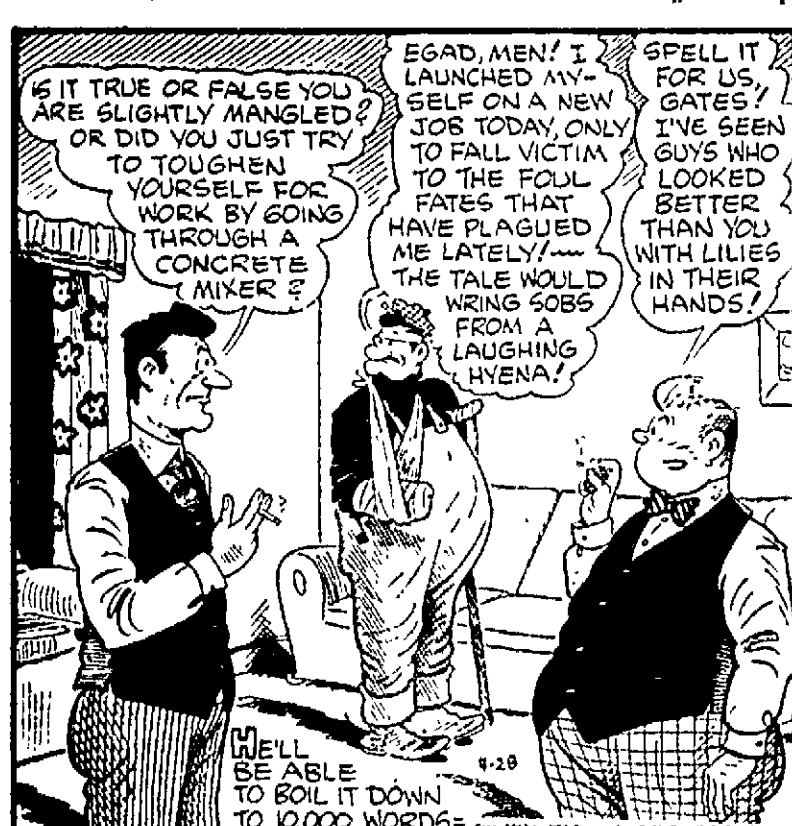

Story, a vice president of American Distilleries Co., arrived Monday.

In New York City, a spokesman for Remington Rand, Inc., said that so far as is known here MacArthur has formulated no plans at present for a visit to Manila or the Far East.

MacArthur is chairman of the board of Remington Rand.

Hen Becomes A Rooster

WARSAW, Ky. (AP) — Reuben Pfeifer says one of his hens is turning into a rooster.

"Look at that thing," he told a reporter Monday. "Last year it was a mother and now it's bustling around just like any young rooster."

Pfeifer said the first inkling he got was when the Rhode Island

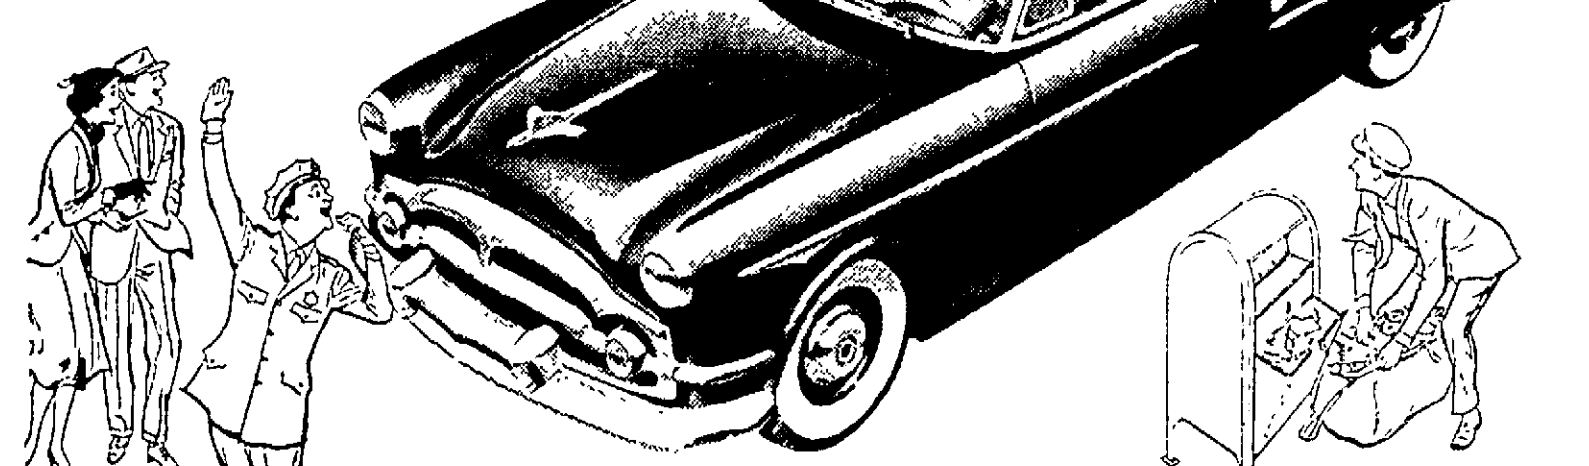

Red last year suddenly started laying soft shelled eggs that gradually became smaller. Then they stopped.

Now it has grown a rooster's comb and tries to crow. "It's not much of a crow," Pfeifer admitted. "But she — but he is trying hard. Maybe he'll get better with practice."

The New Packard CLIPPER

There hasn't been so much real interest and excitement in a medium-priced car in years

FIVE months ago Packard announced the new CLIPPER line.

Five months . . . yet wherever you go today . . . in hotels, in restaurants, on trains, at parties, in meetings . . . wherever people gather, you hear them say: "That new Packard CLIPPER is the buy of the year!"

How come? Well, there's the Packard engine, famous since the Year One in automotive history. This wallowing big powerhouse with a reasonable appetite can purr like a kitten and pull like an elephant.

There's the Packard ride! Smooth, luxurious . . . it will make you want to load 'er up and head for the wide open spaces.

There's Packard's contour styling that is setting the new trend in automotive design. Better visibility any way you look. A design that won't go out of date overnight—which helps your trade-in value later on.

There's everything you want your family car to have today. In all, around 70 big-car features!

See! Compare! Drive!

In fact, if you'll go to one of the CLIPPER dealers listed below and check the big-car features of this new car, we feel that you'll add

Did you know that you can own a Packard CLIPPER 4-Door Sedan (Illustrated above) FOR ONLY $2645.00 Delivered in DIXON
*Plus state and local taxes, if any. Optional equipment and while all other extra prices may vary slightly in nearby communities due to shipping charges.

your voice to the thousands who are saying: "Packard Clipper! It sure is the buy of the year!"

In addition to the Clipper, PACKARD is building today a car so beautiful and fine that it is applauded everywhere as "America's new choice in fine cars." Ask the man who owns one—today! And discover the thrill of driving a Packard!

11-Year-Old Boy, Missing 2 Days, Found in Field

CHOTEAU, Mont. (AP) — Fifth grader Jerry Minkman was caught up on his eating and sleeping today after spending two nights and a day lost in the mountains. The frail 11 year-old was described as little the worse for his experience despite the fact he suffers from asthma.

Young Jerry wandered away from a group of Boy Scouts while on an overnight hike Saturday in the foothills of the Rockies. As most of Choteau's 1600 residents joined in a search, he was found 38 hours later—not by the search parties but by 8-year-old David J. Waldner of the Rockport Hutterite colony. Riding horseback, David came upon Jerry as he stumbled across a field near the colony. Jerry had trudged nearly 30 miles, without food since Saturday afternoon. His first request to young Waldner was for something to eat.

Learns Why Firm Banned For Produce

INDIANAPOLIS — As lawyer for the Saunemin Produce Co. of Chicago, former Republican Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois asked at the Indiana statehouse Monday why his firm had been scratched from the list of food suppliers for Indiana state hospitals and penal institutions.

He found out.
John A. Cartwright, state public works and supply director:
1. Exhibited a box of apricots mixed with sticks, stones, nails, nuts and string, and said Saunemin sold it to Indiana for 49 cents a pound.
2. Exhibited a written protest from the Michigan City state prison that Saunemin shipped lemon extract of high alcohol content. The protest said non-alcoholic flavoring are imperative at "such a place as ours."

3. Told Green that Saunemin repeatedly bid low on items it never delivered, but filled big blanket orders.

Representatives Draw $128,684 In Extra Cash

WASHINGTON — House members drew $128,684 in cash during the last six months of 1952 from the $181,800 fund they voted themselves for stationery and similar expenses.
The cash withdrawals, Controller General Lindsay Warren reported in an audit of the stationery room, were made by 220 members of the 82nd Congress and averaged $584 for each of these members.
The report, covering the period from July 1, 1952, to the last Jan. 3, didn't show what the members did with the cash they withdrew. They don't have to use it for stationery, and they don't have to account for it.

Warm Gulf Air Pushes Northward

By the Associated Press
Warm air from the gulf pushed northward into mid-continent areas today while the East and southern sections got a little cool weather from the Midwest.

The cool air in the South extended as far as central Florida which reported temperatures in the middle 50s early today.
Temperatures during the night were in the high 60s and low 70s in Kansas, Oklahoma and northern Texas as compared to the low 40s over most of the other parts of the Central Plains. It was 90 above Monday in Lamar, Colo., the highest reading in the state this year.

Showers hit sections of Illinois and Indiana and were in prospect for other North Central states. There also were showers over the northern Rockies.

But rain had stopped along the Pacific Coast after heavy falls the last two days. The heaviest April rainfalls in 57 years, nearly two inches, was reported in the San Francisco Bay area. Similar downpours were reported throughout northern California. Many streets were flooded and there were minor landslides. Empire Grade, in Santa Cruz County, was drenched with six inches of rain. Rain and snow fell in the Sierra Mountains and tire chains were used by cars on Highway 40 over Donner Summit.

Ban Newspapers, Others Protest

QUITO, Ecuador — Ecuador's leading newspapers refused to publish today in protest against government closure of two dailies and the jailing of five newsmen.

The government shuttered La Nacion and La Hora, both of Guayaquil, Saturday and seized their buildings. Jailed were Simon Canarte, owner of the two newspapers; their general manager, and three editors.

President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra said the newspapers had "insulted and outraged" members of his government and had "incited to revolution against the government."

South Koreans Stage Protest

SEOUL — South Koreans marched through Seoul again today demanding unification of all Korea.

About 3,000 members of Korean trade unions and the Dai Han youth association displayed signs saying, "Give us unification or give us death." "Peace without unification is death to the nation," and "Let's march north for the unification of the motherland."

Claim New Drug

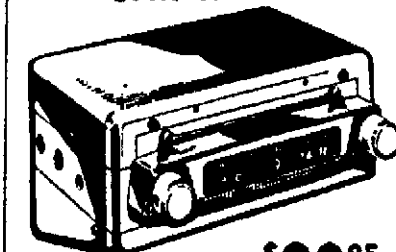

BERLIN — The official East German news agency ADN claimed today that a Soviet zone scientist in Jena has developed a new antibiotic "as successful as penicillin or streptomycin." ADN called the drug xanthocillin.

Boiler Blast Kills 11 on U. S. Carrier

GUATANAMO, Cuba — A boiler accident aboard the U. S. aircraft carrier Bennington killed 11 American seamen and injured four others, U. S. Navy officials reported Monday night.

Names of the dead and injured were withheld pending notification of the next of kin.

The accident occurred Monday while the 27,000-ton Essex class flattop was operating off Guantnamo Bay, one of the Navy's principal bases in the Caribbean Area. The warship later was pulled alongside the base docks.

Navy officials here said details of the accident would have to come from the Navy Department in Washington.

The Bennington, launched Feb. 1911, carried a normal complement of 2,900 officers and men.

Ban Shipments

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands — The Netherlands government today forbade all shipments of armaments and war materials to Red China and North Korea.

The Dutch foreign office said the government decree followed the same lines as recent British and French bans.

Murder in Italy has decreased in recent years to about an average of three a day.
